ASTIGMATISM.

What It Is, and How Corrected.

Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the film known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent Eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye and a way that nothing else can. If you give me your attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 302½ S. Elm St.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.
TELEGRAM BUREAU
HIGH POINT, N. C., June 8.

The golden harvest is almost ready for the reaper in and around High Point. Some wheat is already ripe enough to cut.

Judging from the conversation we overheard on the streets last night, High Point is soon to have that long-talked-of necessity—a cotton factory.

We see from the Salisbury Daily Sun that J. N. Stallings, Jr., who once lived here, was married to Miss Bessie Litten, of Salisbury, last Tuesday. It was a green green affair.

Mrs. J. H. Petty and little daughter are in Virginia this week and will spend a month or more there for their health; especially hoping that the change will be beneficial to her child's health.

There were two more attempts at burglary in town this week, but fortunately the dastardly devils were discovered before they did any harm. If your home is visited by thieves, keep cool and aim true.

W. A. Ring, our clever druggist, has purchased a lot from Rev. J. B. Richardson, on Steele street, opposite High Point roller mills and will soon erect a dwelling thereon. Steele street is on a boom.

We learn that Mrs. Zimri Burns is quite ill this week at her home on South Elm street.

Homer Wheeler, who for the past six years or more has made Washington, D. C., his home, has returned to his native town and accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Union Furniture Co. Glad to welcome you back, Homer.

Our Telegram readers who get their papers at the drug store, were disappointed in not getting their papers, owing to the lateness of 7:12, and expressed themselves so "Sorry it happened so but am glad to know you like to read the Telegram. We are securing subscriptions to this paper right along and would be glad to send it to you. So don't be backward but become a subscriber at once and we will try to do you good. Only 25¢ per month.

Misses Annie and Kate Ragan returned from the Gate City (Greensboro) on belated No. 7 last evening and spent the night with their sister Mrs. Harmon, returning to their home in Archdale this morning. Rev. J. R. Scroggs, who has been attending Trinity College commencement, also returned on same train.

John Ward's little child which died at Jamestown yesterday, was buried at that place this morning.

Undoubtedly yesterday was the hottest day of the season in High Point. As we walked across the dusty streets, the perspiration dropping off of us in great beads, we thought how nice that sprinkler would come in that the city fathers are going to purchase. After awhile the natural sprinkler (the clouds) filled with that indispensable article—rain—opened forth in all their refreshing power and cooled off old mother earth as no artificial agency could, washing the inhabitant the value of water, whether we get it through a natural or artificial source.

The Ice Business.

The subject of ice, this weather, when the mercury is playing about the top end of the thermometer, is a popular one, and the communication of "Citizen" in the Telegram yesterday seems to meet with pretty general approval.

A number of messages have been received at this office today endorsing the communication and calling for a better service.

Certainly it is that the service is not what the patrons desire. The people say if the present dealers can't inaugurate such a service as they want, let somebody begin business who will.

At this juncture President Kilgo in behalf of the board of trustees paid a most beautiful and deserved tribute to the memory of the late William H. Branson. He spoke of him from a personal knowledge and said he was proud to have known and loved and to have been loved by him.

was won by Mr. Harry M. North, youngest son of the late Rev. Dr. John W. North. The committee to decide upon the winner of this much coveted prize was: Rev. Dr. Yates, of Durham; Hon. C. H. Mebane, of Raleigh, and Prof. J. H. Bivins of Charlotte.

MANAGEMENT ENDORSED.

At a meeting of the Alumni Association the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Rev. A. P. Tyre, president; Dr. George T. Sykes, vice-president; Rev. T. A. Smoot, second vice-president, and Mr. C. E. Turner, secretary.

The association also elected four trustees, whose term of office will begin on January 1, 1900, viz.: Dr. Fred Peacock, of Greensboro, re-elected;

Mr. B. B. Nicholson, of Washington, re-elected; Dr. E. T. White, of Oxford, new member, and Dr. W. G. Bradshaw, of High Point, a new member.

Dr. Oscar McMillan, of Elizabeth City, was selected by the association to deliver the annual address at the

The Orations—The Wiley Gray Medal.

呈 to W. H. Branson—President and Trustees Endorsed.

Yesterday was graduating day at Trinity College. The handsome new Craven Memorial Hall was used for the commencement exercises, and the large spacious auditorium, which literally packed the spacious auditorium, all through the various exercises was strong attested of the hold Trinity has over the affections of the people. Never, perhaps, in the history of the institution, have such large and enthusiastic crowds filled its halls on commencement occasions as on the one which closed last night. Three times the usual number of Methodist ministers were in attendance, and literally and truly speaking, visitors were there from end of the State to the other.

Without doing ourselves the pleasure of giving many pleasing incidents which would make very interesting reading we will confine ourselves to the exercises of the day.

THE GRADUATES.

Eleven young men and one young woman composed the class of '99. The young lady was Miss Isabel Elias, daughter of Hon. Kope Elias. The entire class and their places of abode are as follows:

Messrs. W. H. Adams, Devere, this state; J. H. Barnhardt, Mt. Pleasant; E. T. Bowling, Durham; L. W. Elias, Franklin; R. C. Etheridge, Manteo; D. W. Newsom, Littleton; L. C. Nicholson, Richlands; H. M. North, Laurinburg; W. N. Parker, Morgan; E. R. Welch, Red Springs; F. T. Willis, Elizabeth City, and Miss Isabel Elias, Franklin.

The following six were the class representatives and contestants for the Wiley Gray medal for oratory:

Jesse Homer Barnhardt, of Mount Pleasant, N. C. Subject: "The Quest of Truth."

Dallas Walton Newsom, of Littleton, N. C. Subject: "Puritanism."

Lloyd Carlton Nicholson, of Richlands, N. C. Subject: "The New Aristocracy."

Harry Mauries North, of Laurinburg, N. C. Subject: "Traditions."

William Newman Parker, of Morgan, N. C. Subject: "Abraham Lincoln."

Edward R. Welch, of Red Springs, N. C. Subject: "The Anglo-Saxon in the East."

The three following young men prepared orations, but did not speak:

Wade Hill Adams, of Denver, N. C. Subject: "The Making of the Fatherland."

Edgar Simeon Bowling, of Rougemont, N. C. Subject: "Interance."

Lewis Weimar Elias, of Franklin, N. C. Subject: "The Progress of Factory Legislation."

The remaining three members of the class presented graduation theses, as follows:

Isabel Elias, of Franklin, N. C. Subject: "Kipling's Personality."

Robert Bruce Etheridge, of Manteo, N. C. Subject: "Fort Raleigh—Its History."

Frank Thomas Willis, of Elizabeth City, N. C. Subject: "James Ireland."

At the close of the orations President Kilgo presented the diplomas and certificates, the former to the members of the graduating class and the latter to Misses Mabel Chadwick and Mary Hendren. The certificates to the young ladies were given on their completion of the English department of college work.

At this juncture President Kilgo in behalf of the board of trustees paid a most beautiful and deserved tribute to the memory of the late William H. Branson.

He spoke of him from a personal knowledge and said he was proud to have known and loved and to have been loved by him.

"I look back through the years that have departed and then I look upward to the years yet to come—methinks I see Reid and Burkhead and Mann and Robey and Closs and Harris and Wilson and Wood and Adams and Bobbitt and Black and Lewis and Craven coming in—all these who are not, for God hath taken them unto Himself, and I think I hear falling from their hallowed lips, 'Let peace abide now with our beloved church in North Carolina, and may the blessings of our God be ever upon Trinity College, its president, its faculty and students and friends, now and forever.'

"Now, Mr. President, I present to you this Craven Memorial Hall. May it stand for ages yet to come and forever keep fresh and green the memory of him in whose honor it now stands. And at last, when life's fitful fever and deadly strife are over with you and me and all of us who love our Lord Jesus Christ, then may we take up our abode with Him beyond the sunset of life."

next annual commencement; and Dr. W. G. Bradshaw, of High Point, was chosen as alternate, on that occasion. Both of these gentlemen, as well as the president of the association, were of the class of 1877.

Before adjourning, the association passed the following resolutions, endorsing the present administration of the college, and thanking Col. Julian S. Carr for his generous gift:

"Resolved, That this association of alumni do endorse the administration of the affairs of the college by its board of trustees, as heretofore accomplished, and as projected and announced, and that it do heartily commend the course of its president in his efforts to bring the educational work of the state under Christian influence; and we do feel that the trustees, the president and the faculty have served the college most efficiently in their several spheres.

"Resolved, That this association do thank Mr. Julian S. Carr and do appreciate most highly his gift of the seats, lights and furnishing of the hall which cost about two thousand dollars; and do commend most heartily the magnanimous and generous spirit which prompted the magnificent gift. And we do most earnestly pray the blessings of God to be upon him and his throughout life."

THE BUILDING PRESENTED.

The Craven Hall was presented to the board of trustees by the man who had none so much to beget—Rev. N. M. Journey—and was accepted by Mr. James H. Southgate, president of the board of trustees, in the name of the board and college. In presenting the building Rev. Mr. Journey said:

"Mr. President: This day marks a new era in the history of this college. I am profoundly grateful that I live and am permitted to present, through you to the board of trustees, this building erected to the memory of the founders of Trinity College.

"But amid the gladness that thrills my heart—that we now have the largest and most handsome house of any college in all the south—there comes to me a feeling of profound sorrow. This building, so beautiful in design and so perfectly furnished for comfort and ease, is in debt over $5,000 for money borrowed, and this was made necessary because many who promised to help me complete this hall did not and would not hear my prayer. I

TRINITY COLLEGE.

For the first time in his life it was the privilege of the editor to attend the commencement at Trinity College this week. It was a happy occasion—saw one feature, the fact that Dr. Kilgo was in an almost exhausted condition, being unable to leave his couch long enough to lend his inspiring presence to all the exercises. He was present part of the time and his presence was always felt. When he appeared on the rostrum at the close of the graduating orations he was greeted by a spontaneous outburst of applause. In his weak and nearly prostrated condition he arose to the task before him and in a masterly manner presented the diplomas and certificates and paid a rich tribute to the memory of the lamented W. H. Branson. Dr. Kilgo impressed us as completely filling the requirements of Bishop Duncan's sermon the day before—a prepared man, a ready man. May a kind Heavenly Father restore him to the full vigor of the prime of manhood and grant him many years at the head of the institution over which he so wisely and ably presides.

Trinity College is in the front Grouped about the president is a faculty second to none in the land, and with an endowment largely given by the hands, prompted by the noble hearts, of Messrs. W. Duke and his son B. Duke, the old college in a new dress is now in a wide open field of usefulness, teaching the grand principles of Christian education and filling the minds of its students with a rich store of the true knowledge. Long may he flourish where the golden grain stands thickest and highest!

The visit of Bishop Duncan, the profound and scholarly South Carolinian, was an inspiration. His a grand personage, a gentleman of the old school in appearance, but with modern, progressive ideas and the ability to tell them in an entertaining and impressive manner. He is a warm friend of our Trinity.

The Craven Memorial Hall, just completed and occupied this week for the first time, is a spacious building of handsome proportions and pleasing architecture. It has opera chair seats with a capacity of about 1,200. The seats and inside furnishings were donated by Col. J. S. Carr at a cost of $2,000. In addition to this Col. Carr on Tuesday, gave $500 more to the payment of the indebtedness on the building. Capt. J. M. Odell, of Concord, also gave an additional $500 for the same purpose.

Many improvements are in contemplation for the coming year, and the next commencement it is thought will reveal greater things for Trinity. We were the guest, while there, of Dr. J. I. Hamaker, professor of Physics and Biology, and to him we now make acknowledgments for courtesies extended us. We hope to soon visit the college again.

GEN. KING'S TESTIMONY.

There returned from Manila a few days since Gen. Charles King, of Wisconsin, who was one of the first volunteer officers to reach the Philippines. No man in the American army has seen more actual service in those islands than Gen. King, and his statement as to the conditions which confront the American army must be very weighty in the light of the fact that he is an ardent expansionist, is in thorough sympathy with the administration's colonial policy, and wants to see the war prosecuted with greater energy. But he is also in favor of admitting the facts as they exist, and of looking the ugly situation squarely in the face.

Gen. King's testimony is different from the censored dispatches we get daily from the Philippines. He sees absolutely no prospect of an early conclusion of the war, and is thoroughly convinced that the strife must continue indefinitely, and that a much larger force than we now have in the east must be sent General Otis.

As we have before remarked, the dispatches which we receive daily from Manila pass through the hands of Mr. McKinley's press censor, whose blue pencil never fails to strike out any intelligence of the state of affairs which might have a tendency to discourage the American people, and bring into condemnation the manœuvres that the administration is having executed.

McKinley is not ashamed of the army. The army is all right. Those brave American soldiers are doing their duty, but the natural obstacles against which they have to contend are more than they can surmount. Incessant rain, terrific heat, sickness, night attack, and the fearful condition of the country roads, are formidable allies of the Filipinos. And the Filipinos cannot be conquered with the present force that Ots has under his command.

NATIONAL CAPITAL MATTERS.

A Scotchman Likely to be the Next Speaker of the House.

Washington, June 8—If Representative Henderson, of Iowa, is elected speaker of the next house of representatives, as now seems assured, he will be the first speaker of foreign birth who ever presided over the national house. It is true that ex-Speaker Crisp, of Georgia, was born in England, but his parents were natives of the United States and were in England merely on a visit. This fact did not render Mr. Crisp a foreign-born citizen, in the sense that he would have been ineligible for the office of president or vice-president. Mr. Henderson, however, was born in Scotland, of Scotch parentage, and was not brought to this country until he was about six years of age.

Among prominent democrats in Washington is ex-Representative Silas Hare, of Texas. Mr. Hare, although out of political life, still maintains an interest in national political affairs. In conversation yesterday, he stated that he is of the opinion that the republican party will not make a mistake in electing General Henderson speaker of the fifi y-sixth house. Mr. Hare served through several congresses with Mr. Henderson and knows him personally, and regards him as one of the strongest men on the republican side of the house of representatives.

Among prominent Virginia gentlemen in Washington yesterday was ex-Governor Charles O'Ferrall. The ex-governor came over from Richmond Tuesday night and went to the Metropolitan hotel where he registered. Mr. O'Ferrall is in Washington on personal business. Friends who saw the ex-governor remarked upon his fine appearance. In fact he looks much better than he did while occupying the executive chair of the Old Dominion. Mr. O'Ferrall is still a firm believer in the gold standard, and is as earnest in his opposition to Bryan and to the free coinage of silver as he was in 1896, when he stood at the head of the anti-Bryan organization in the state of Virginia. While in Washington the ex-governor refused to discuss the political outlook in the Old Dominion, saying that he is now devoting his attention to the practice of law, and not to political questions.

Most of the members of the South Carolina colony, in Washington who went to Winchester, Virginia, to attend the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the South Carolina monument have returned to Washington. Among those who went from this city was Mr. John G. Capers, of South Carolina, a son of Bishop Capers. The bishop himself was a gallant confederate soldier serving through the civil conflict with distinction and bravery. He is now one of the most prominent of the bishops from the south in the Episcopal Protestant church. His son, Mr. John G. Capers, who delivered the principal address at Winchester, is one of the assistant attorneys in the department of justice. He was first appointed by President Cleveland.

A large delegation of Missouri republicans, headed by Ex-Congressman Frank, are in the city for the purpose of presenting a protest to the director of the census against the appointment of democratic supervisors in Missouri. There are thirteen districts in the state, and the director of the census proposes to give the republicans seven, and the democrats six. The delegation want all thirteen of the supervisors to be republicans.

The graduation exercises of the Georgetown Law School will take place next Monday night. Among those who will receive degrees are many southern students. They are as follows:

Masters of Law—George W. Allison, Georgia; Wm. W. Andrews, South Carolina; James C. Crawford, Louisiana; Levi C. David, South Carolina; Charles M. Cantwell Doran, Virginia; Goodwyn D. Ellsworth, North Carolina; Robert Gordon Flinner, Virginia; Lee P. Harlow, Virginia; Eugene B. Lacy, Alabama; Kenneth S. Murchison, South Carolina; John D. Norrington, Virginia; David B. Perry, North Carolina; Frederick Schade, Virginia; Antonio J. Smith, Virginia. Bachelors of Law—Gibbs L. Baker, South Carolina; Leopold Burger, Alabama; Oswald R. Eve, Georgia; Frank Lever, South Carolina; George Edmundson Maddox, Georgia; J. Perry Royston, Virginia; Herman B. Schade, Virginia; Charles B. Taylor, Virginia; G. Earle Yancey, Florida.

Representative Pearson, of North Carolina, who is contesting for the seat in the next house occupied by Representative Crawford, is in the city. He says that he has positive proof of wholesale fraud and political corruption in his district at the last election, and he disputes Mr. Crawford's statement that he cannot make out a good case.

Now postoffice has been established at Rosin Hill, Sampson county, N. C. Jonah McPhail commissioned postmaster.

SWAPPED SWEETHEARTS.

Double Wedding Came Off Under a Different Arrangement.

A double wedding which occurred near Mallura this week was decidedly unique.

Two daughters of Henry Dipcomb had for some time been receiving the attentions of a couple of young men from Fulton county. The daughters are Frances and Mary, the former finally becoming engaged to George Ladlam and the latter in time to his soon companion, David Rendee. The sisters were very devoted, while the two young men have been from boyhood inseparable chums. A double wedding was decided upon and the day set. Great preparations had been made at the house, and while but few neighbors had been invited, relatives and friends of all parties from away from that section were quite generally invited.

The boys went over to the Dipcomb house early in the day, and to their surprise they found Mary, the younger of the girls, quite disengaged, although making evident effort to keep up bravely and appear cheerful at the feast. After some hesitation she said that she could not marry David Rendee because she loved George Ladlam better. The upshot of the whole matter was that they were mutual releases and mutual new engagements, and in a short time Ladlam was betrothed to Mary and Frances promised herself to David Rendee.

There was a double wedding at the Dipcomb home late that evening, but many of the guests were at a loss to understand the situation until the mother of the girls made full explanation.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Cholera Morbus Quickly Cured.

During the hot weather last summer I had a severe attack of cholera morbus, necessitating my leaving my business," says Mr. C. A. Hare, of Hare Bros., Fincastle, Ohio. "After taking two or three doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I was completely relieved and in a few hours was able to resume my work in the store. I sincerely recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach or bowel trouble. C. E. Holton, druggist.

CURSED IN COURT.

Jane Black Refuses to Be Suppressed and Is Sent to Jail for Contempt.

Jane Black, the irrepressible amazon who has been tried and convicted something less than a thousand times of selling liquor without license, refuses to abandon the trade. She was convicted in a number of cases in court last week and paid numerous fines and heavy costs. Yesterday she was before "Squire Pritchett to answer the charge of having sold whisky last Sunday. Two or three witnesses swore against her and in the course of events Jane began to bawl over with indignation. She arose without addressing the court and in stentorian tones and vulgar language cursed out the negro race in general, paying especial attention to the witnesses in the case then before the court.

Squire Pritchett ordered that she be confined in jail until 4 o'clock in the afternoon for contempt of court, and that she be held until he gave security for her appearance at the present term of superior court. Jane had become sullen and refused to try to give bond, and accordingly gets meals and lodging at the jail yet.

Prof. Grimsley requested us to state
